

3-Night Southern Nevada Indian Territory Adventure

Day 1

Start your day with a visit to the Springs Preserve and the Nevada State Museum. At the Springs Preserve learn about Southern Nevada's unique environment and its people through colorful galleries, botanical gardens and an interpretive trail system through a scenic wetland habitat. Located on the same campus, the Nevada State Museum provides visitors with an opportunity to meet Sarah Winnemucca, Wovoka, and Dat So La Lee and learn how American Indians have shaped and continue to shape the history and culture of Nevada. From the Nevada State Museum take West Charleston Blvd and State Route 159 west to Red Rock National Conservation Area. For the thousands of years as many as six different American Indian cultures may have used this area for different purpose such as living in the valley during the fall & winter and migrating to the hills and mountains during spring & summer. While at Red Rock learn more about the history of the region at the visitor's center and explore the attractions of the area along its 13-mile scenic loop drive. From Red Rock take State Routes 159 and 160 west to Pahrump to visit the Pahrump Valley Museum. The museum features artifacts from the area's Native people as well as exhibits detailing Pahrump's prospecting, ranching and farming history. Overnight in Pahrump.

Day 2

From Pahrump travel east on Bell Vista Road and north on Spring Meadows Road to the Ash Meadows National Wildlife Refuge. The Southern Paiute and Timbisha Shoshone people once settled around the beautiful spring pools and lived off this land, today these Tribe's maintain a strong connection to the Ash Meadows area. From Ash Meadows take State Route 373 and US 95 to the Corn Creek Visitors Center. The visitor center includes interpretive exhibits and nature trails that allow you to explore the exceptional wilderness and wildlife of the Desert National Wildlife Refuge (the largest refuge in the lower 48 states). From Corn Creek take US 95 south to the Las Vegas Paiute Golf Resort. The resort is owned and operated by the Las Vegas Paiute Tribe (Tudinu) and is home to three world class 18 hole courses; Snow Mountain (Nu-Wav Kaiv), Sun Mountain (Tav-Ai-Kaiv) and Wolf (Kwetoo-Unuv). In addition to offering premier golf, the resort is home to a luxurious clubhouse with an award winning pro shop and restaurant. From the Las Vegas Paiute Golf Resort take US 95 and State Route 157 to the Spring Mountains Visitor Gateway. While at the visitors center explore the history and wildlife of the Spring Mountains National Recreation Area and see the Paiute Nation Seven Sacred Stones monument, which honors the seven nations of the region. From the visitors center take State Route 157 and US 95 south to North Las Vegas. Overnight in North Las Vegas.
